

Name: Ron Royer

Job Title/Classification: Lead Land Law Examiner (GS-0965-11)

Org. Code/Name: AK-962, Division of Conveyance Management, Alaska SO

Telephone Number: 907-271-5677

Past Experience:

Lead Land Law Examiner in the Alaska State Office Division of Conveyance Management for 20+ years. The Alaska Land Transfer Program (ALTP) is the largest conveyance program in the United States. BLM Alaska is mandated to survey and transfer land title to approximately 150 million acres of land to individual Alaska Natives, various Native corporations and the State of Alaska. My experience includes:

Lead Land Law Examiner Branch of ANCSA Adjudication, Branch of Native Allotments (Title Recovery), and Branch of Area Adjudication; Division Training Coordinator; Division ADP Technical Coordinator; National Re-invention Lab Team Member tasked to re-design Alaska's Land Conveyance Program; Team Member tasked to develop Alaska's Land Transfer Program Strategic Management Plan; Team member for the design/development/implementation of the ANCSA acreage control accounting subsystem; Interdisciplinary Team Lead tasked to develop the Data Standard Handbook and Coding Guidelines for all Alaska Conveyance case types.

Type of Project Interested In:

Natural Resources, Re-engineering Efforts, Strategic Planning, IT Application Development for Planning Initiatives, Land & Minerals Related Projects

Availability:

I am available to manage or assist an experienced project manager on a large scale project.

Why did you apply for Project Management Training?

It seemed like a logical "next step" after my experience with re-engineering and strategic planning. The Alaska Land Conveyance Program seemed ripe for applying project management principles to meet its sunset goals.

How would you rate the quality and content of the training you received?

Some of the best training I have ever received. The instructors were dynamic, the pace rapid, the material interesting, and the course challenging.

How do you anticipate using your new skills?

Project Management principles can be incorporated in all aspects of my professional and many areas of my personal life. The skills, techniques, and methodologies can be applied across the board to achieve personal as well as professional goals.